Demonstrations In City

FOUR SUSTAIN BULLET WOUNDS IN FIRING

Mass Arrests In Bombay, Karachi And Other Places

Police had to resort to firing at three different places in the city following scenes of excitement in several places in Girgaum and Chowpatty on Wednesday afternoon.

Four persons were admitted in hospitals with bullet wounds, as a result of police opening fire.

Although the day started quietly with nothing more than absention of students from schools and colleges, exitement ran high towards evening following the frustration of attempts to hold meetings and take out processions at Chowpatty and other places.

The total number of arrests in connection with the demonstration in city on Wednesday was 356, of which 153 were women. Prominent among these were Mrs. Jaishree Raiji, Dr. Miss V. R. Parekh, Dr. Miss S. G. Pandya and Miss Sarla Nagindas. The arrested women were reported to have been kept in various places

Out of a batch of 60 arrested women who were kept in Umerkhadi, 51 were released at midnight.

Thin Attendance In Schools

Attendance in all educational institutions in the city was very poor and more than a score of students were arrested before noon for participating in demonstrations near their colleges.

Simultaneous attempts were made to take out processions in several parts of the city at about 2-30 p.m. Mrs. Jaishree Raijee and four other ladies were arrested while coming out in a procession near Madhav Baug.

ARRESTS AT MADHAV BAUG

There was considerable excitement near Madhav Baug where large crowds of people filled the pavements and balconies in eager curiosity. Elaborate police arrangements had been made. Most of the shops in the locality remained closed. At about 2-30 p.m. Mrs. Jaishri Raijee and four other women were seen emerging from a by-lane holding flags. They were promptly put under arrest and taken away in a lorry.

AT CHOWPATTY

At about the same time college girls led by an elderly lady attempted to take out a procession at Chowpatty, opposite the Wilson College. The police, in attempting to disperse the crowds had to chase the girls who played 'hide and seek' with them on Chowpatty, sands and nearby. The lady who was trying to lead the batch of girls was arrested. Immediately the whole locality was filled with crowds and two B. E. S. T. buses are reported to have been stoned Police opened fire. One person was wounded.

Following this incident, police precautions were tightened up. The Chowpatty area was, deserted, even the usual hawkers removing to the footpaths further away.

Batches of girls attempted to take out processions in different localities near the junction at Portuguese Church, the Y. M. C. A. at Lamington Road, Prarthana Samaj and other places along Vithalbhai Patel Road. All attempts were foiled by the police—in some cases by means of canes.

POLICE OPEN FIRE

As the evening advanced, trouble spread to localities which were hitherto unaffected. The demonstrators who had been dispersed at Choupati marched through Girgaum Back Road shouting slogans and informing people that police had opened fire at Choupati. This caused considerable excitement in the locality, where crowds soon collected in an attempt to stop traffic, pulled down telephone poles and threw stones. Police dispersed these crowds by lathi charge and use of tearsmoke squibs many times. As the demonstrators persisted in their attempts to interfere with traffic and continued to throw stones, Police opened fire three times along this road as a result, of which four persons were injured.

Excitement prevailed in the Share Bazar in the afternoon. The police cordoned off the area and kept out large crowds who had gathered near. About 2-30 p.m. a person emerged with a flag and was arrested by the police.

Girl students played a prominent part in the demonstrations which were held in the morning near schools and colleges. Over twenty arrests were made.

15 STUDENTS ARRESTED

Students of the Elphinstone College gathered in the quandrangle and joined in singing the national song. Three of them entered the college hall with a flag. Fifteen students were arrested at this college, eleven of them being girls.

Three students were arrested near the St. Xavier's college, among them being a niece of Sir Shantidas Askuran.

Most of the students of the Wilson College refrained from attending their classes as a protest against the arrest of two fellow students the previous day.

AT RUIA COLLEGE

Nearly a thousand students lined up the balconies of the Ruia College and shouted slogans. Students came out of the classes peacefully after the principal requested the students to leave the premises if they did not want to attend lectures. A police van reconnoitred the area for nearly an hour. The principal, at the instance of the police, appealed to the students not to crowd in a tea-stall opposite the college. The students obeyed.

FLAG OVER V. J. T. I. GATE

After closing the gates of the Victoria Jubilee Technical Institute, the students hoisted National flags over the gates. The attempt on the part of the college authorities to force open the gates resulted in the flags being damaged. The students clamoured for and got back the flags. A subsequent attempt to hold a prayer meeting for the physical well being of Congress leaders and their early release proved unsuccessful.

AT G. S. MEDICAL COLLEGE

Students of the Seth Gordhandas Medical College squatted on the staircase for a long time. Attendance in the college was meagre.

There was considerable excitement at the Indian Education Society's Girls' School and other schools in the Dadar-Matunga area. Seven girl students were arrested for posting themselves in front of the school. Four of them were released later. There was a light cane charge near the girls' school. Two students received minor injuries.

Some of the girls were taking shelter in a tenement in the first floor of a building in the vicinity. A police officer went up and persuaded them to leave the premises.

By 7-30 p.m. when the Curfew came into force, the whole Bombay City had quietened down, and no further incidents have been reported from any part of the city thereafter.

It was on the ninth of last month that Mahatma Gandhi and other leaders were arrested.

Viceroy's Attitude "Non-Committal"

LEADERS DETERMINED TO PURSUE PEACE EFFORTS

Bid For Unanimity Of Demand For National Govt.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT)

NEW DELHI, Sept. 9.

Far less enthusiasm was noticeable to-day in Dr. Mukherji's camp.

The Hindu Mahasabha leader acquainted his colleagues with the purport of his interview with the Viceroy which, as expected, has not altered the position. His Excellency's attitude is described in Mahasabha circles as "non-committal."

But Dr. Mukherji's view appears to be that they should pursue their peace efforts regardless of Government's present attitude.

To a question whether he proposed to meet Gandhiji in his place of detention, Dr. Mukherji exclaimed, "How can I go to Mahatma Gandhi unless I have something in hand".

For the present, therefore, Dr. Mukherji's plan is to await government's response, before seeking permission to interview Gandhiji and other Congress leaders in jail. Dr. Mukherji has, throughout been maintaining that initiative must now be taken by British Government.

Three difficulties face Dr. Mukherji in his present efforts. Firstly, no reply has yet been received from Mr. Jinnah to the Hindu Mahasabha's latter enclosing a copy of its resolution. It is not yet clear whether Punjab Muslim ministers who have arrived in Delhi will be able to smooth the way for negotiations.

LEAGUERS' ANXIETY

A strong group in the Muslim League is anxious not to lose the present opportunity for reaching an all-party understanding but they are awaiting Mr. Jinnah's arrival.

Secondly, they are disappointed as Rajaji has not yet agreed to come to Delhi but efforts are still being made. There is no indication yet whether Viceroy will call Rajaji and other leaders for an interview to consider the present situation but His Excellency is expected to meet party leaders in the legislature next week.

Thirdly, Indian members in the Viceroy's Council are divided in their opinion. There is so far no agreement for further interview between Dr. Mukherji and the Viceroy.

Informal consultations among the leaders are continuing today. Sir Jagdish Prasad has left Delhi but is expected to return soon.

Radhakrishnan And Nawab Of Dacca Participate

NEW DELHI, Sept. 9.

Sir S. Radhakrishnan and the Nawab of Dacca also joined in to-day's talks which continue till late in the evening.

Raja Maheshwar Dayal had a telephone talk with Mr. Savarkar, President of the Hindu Mahasabha in Bombay. It is expected that Dr. Moonje will be in Delhi to-morrow or the day after.—A. P.

Formulation Of Unanimous Demands

NEW DELHI, Sept. 9.

As a result of informal talks among the Hindu leaders, Provincial Premiers, Sikh and other representatives, the "United Press" learns that a suggestion was made that a statement should be prepared formulating a unanimous demand for a National Government at the Centre and in the Provinces during war-time committed to the prosecution of the war. The final text of the statement or a rough draft under discussion would be communicated to the Viceroy and possibly to the representatives of the United Nations.

Further stages of political activity arising out of the statement would depend upon the reactions produced on the British Government.

Dr. Shyama Prasad Mukherji, Mr. N. C. Chatterji and Rai Bahadur Mehrchand Khanna met Sardar Baldev Singh and Master Tara Singh. They are meeting the Indian Members of the Viceroy's Executive Council individually. Sir Jagdish Pershad and Khan Bahadur Allahabux, Sind Premier, met the Hindu leaders, again, this afternoon.—United Press.

When Churchill Will Make Statement On India

LONDON, Sept. 9.

Mr. Churchill is now expected to make his statement on India on the last sitting day of the present series of meetings.

The Leader of the House of Commons Sir Stafford Cripps announced that Mr. Churchill would not be in a position to make a statement on India today but would make a statement on the next sitting day.

There would be an opportunity for a debate on India, he added on a motion for adjournment on the fourth sitting day.—Reuter.

DELHI ON TIP-TOE OF EXPECTATION

NEW DELHI, Sept. 9.

The announcement that Mr. Churchill is about to make a statement on India has added zest to the Delhi political talks. which were resumed this morning.

The statement is looked forward to with the utmost interest and while it is recognised that it must inevitably change the whole atmosphere, it is also felt that the leaders gathered here must not allow their attention to be distracted by anitcipations of what the Prime Minister will say.

Whatever the content of the statement, it is pointed out, the task of agreeing on basic principles must be pursued.

Those taking part in the talks to-day are Sir Sikandar Hayat Khan, Khan Bahadur Allah Bux Sir Chotu Ram, Raja Maheshwar Dayal Seth, Master Tara Singh, Sardar Baldeo Singh, Mr. N. C. Chatterjee and Mr. Mehrchand Khanna besides Dr Shyamprasad Mookerjee.—A. P.

Central Bank Case

(Before the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Broomfield and Mr. Justice Macklin).

P. D. Shamdasani ..... Appellant.

Versus

The Central Bank of India Ld. Respondents

This was an application made by the appellant for an order for Short Service of the Notice of Motion taken out by him on 4th September, 1942, and for an interim order that pending the hearing and final disposal of the Notice of Motion the Taxing Master of the High Court be directed not to issue the allocatur in respect of the taxed costs of the respondents' bill of costs lodged for taxation on 18th November, 1940.

On Mr. Shamdasani making this application, Mr. R. J. Kolah instructed by Messrs. Payne and Co., Solicitors, mentioned his appearance on behalf of the respondent bank. Their Lordships ruled that the Notice of Motion not having yet been served upon the respondent bank and the application being "ex parte", counsel for the respondent bank had no "locus standi" before Their Lordships and could not be heard at that stage.

Their Lordships ordered the Notice of Motion to be made returnable on Thursday the 17th September, 1942, before the Court hearing Original Side appeals or on such later date as may be fixed by that Court. Their Lordships further directed that pending the hearing and disposal of the Notice of Motion the Taxing Master was not to issue the allocatur.

Mr. Shamdasani appeared in person.

TEACHER CONQUERS ULCERATED STOMACH

Discards 18-year Diet

A schoolmistress who, owing to a weak stomach, had been restricted to a diet for 18 years, writes as follows:—

"I had stomach trouble for 18 years," she tells us. "Ulcers culminated in haemorrhage. For six weeks, I lay between life and death, and at the end of two years could just eat steamed fish, steamed rice and things of that sort. Five years ago, when I tried a real meal, it cost me three months in bed. Following another scare, I started taking Rennies. The pains went, and as they did not return, I cautiously tried different dishes, and found I could enjoy any food I fancied. What a miracle! Rennies have definitely strengthened my stomach—something .powders could not do."—(Mrs.) A.M.B.

Digestif Rennies strengthened this woman's stomach because they contain antacids which neutralise acidity, the frequent cause of ulceration; absorbents which reduce stomach gas; and digestive ferments which actively aid digestion. Rennies dissolve in the mouth. They become active at once, because they reach your stomach full strength—not weakened with water.

You can get Rennies from any chemist or store; a small box costs only a few annas.

Mr. V. H. Pange, convener, explained to the gathering the aims and objects of the meeting.

D. B. Kaji said that in the insurance business, there were many interests to be considered, that of the shareholders, the management, the agents and the policy-holders. Just as the above three interests were protected by their associations, it was necessary that there ought to be an association to protect the interest of policy-holders.

He dwelt on the need for State insurance which would eliminate agents and cheapen insurance. Describing the evils of insurance in India, he traced it to the fact that insurance was "sold and bought", due to the pressure of agents etc.

He advised the gathering to consider insurance not as a business but as a social service.

USE A GODREJ SOAP FOR SHAVING TOO!
An elaborate manufacturing process, meticulous blending of the various ingredients, the testing and selection of pure vegetable oils (exclusively used in Godrej toiletries) are characteristic of Godrej shaving soaps, as of Godrej toilet soaps.—The emollient Vegetable Oil Lather—devoid of even a trace of irritating free-alkali—will have a two-fold tonic effect on the skin: prepare the ground for a smooth, easy shave to the toughest of growths, and, secondly, give a soothing after-shave feeling to even sensitive skins. And you don't have to lather often, because the profuse, creamy lather stays on firm and saves time. Use a Godrej soap—Stick or Round—for shaving, too, and keep your face well-groomed, just as you keep your skin clean and healthy with one or other of the Godrej Vegetable Toilet Soaps.

THE PROSPECT BEFORE US . . .

TODAY, the whole future of India as nationalists have dreamed it and planned it is in danger. If India is overrun by the Japanese, she will lose all chance of controlling her own destiny—a right for which she has fought with great dignity for so long and is now on the verge of achieving. Worse still, she will lose the opportunity to put into effect her plans for a new life for the people. She will never, like Russia and China, experience the excitement of shaping a nation anew—for the sake of the wealth, health and happiness of her 80,000,000 families.

Do not judge what India has to lose only by what we at present want to get rid of. Remember what we already possess and want to keep!—Remember also the things we lack and mean to have!

Though their intention in welcoming the Japanese Army may have been to save their people suffering, the French Government of Indo-China and Marshal Songgram, Leader of the Thais, have both found themselves the helpless tools of the Japanese Army, utterly reactionary, brutal and corrupt.

To save India, all political parties, progressive or otherwise, must unite in one common plan of resistance to the Japanese.

Bahai Remedy For World's Ills

A plea to stand in line with the teachings of Baha'ullah was put forth by Mr. Mani H. M. Mehta in course of his address on "New thought on present times" at the Mazdaznan Hall, Churchgate, on Tuesday evening. Justice Divatia of the Bombay High Court presided. The speaker appealed to all to think in terms of internationalism —to think in terms of the gradual lines of Baha'ullah, that "Glory is not his who loves his native land, but glory is his who loves his kind."

Justice Divatia, in his closing remarks stated that the divine verities had come down to man through ages past, and the main question before man at present was how to put them in practice in actual life?

NO MORE DELAY

On the 9th September, that is, exactly one month after the arrests of Mahatma Gandhi and Congress leaders, the agitation in the city took the shape of peaceful processions in various places, though subsequently crowds indulged in violent demonstrations. We feel sure that, if the processions had been allowed to go their way, there would have been no trouble. But they were dispersed with lathi or cane charges. We had hoped that after a month of repression, which was expected to nip in the bud every kind of resistance, Government would once again have realized the limitations of this weapon But Government seem determined to persist in their policy instead of realizing once more that conciliation alone can restore peace and lead to a settlement. One can only hope that this realisation will come before the war takes a more serious turn in the East.

United Demand

Popular bodies, however, even outside the Congress are now convinced that any delay in a settlement is fraught with grave danger. They do so because India is their home and is in imminent danger of invasion. They are determined to see that the history of Burma is not repeated in India. They are convinced they can save her only through her freedom and are determined to win it at any cost —not after the war is won but now for the very purpose of winning the war. The Congress lead in insisting on immediate transfer of power has not gone in vain. The Hindu Mahasabha, the non-Party Conference and a number of other bodies demand freedom right now. As regards the Muslim League it also asks for immediate freedom, though of divided India. Several of its prominent leaders have urged a settlement with the Congress, obviously endorsing the demand for immediate freedom. Sheik Abdu. Majid protests that "in material points the League's stand is identical with that of the Congress and here is no moral justification hereafter for the continuance of British control over the Central Administration." He goes further and says: "It would have been better had the League condemned the hasty step taken by the British Government in arresting the Congress leaders without giving them an opportunity to address their communication to the British Government and representatives of the United Nations. I demand their release in the interest of abiding settlement which is more essential to the successful prosecution of the war. But I believe we have to wait for a few days until the British Government defines its attitude towards the National Demand." This is very encouraging, indeed. But much better than waiting passively for Government to define their attitude is to do something to induce Government to take up the right attitude.

Negotiate

Obviously the least the various bodies that demand immediate freedom can do is to unite formally and press an agreed outline scheme on Government so as to make it impossible for the latter to reject or ignore it. It cannot possibly be long before the Congress leaders will be free to join the negotiations and complete them. But none need wait for them. Several non-Congress leaders are already busy in Delhi arranging the preliminaries of negotiations. The League holds the key position and without its co-operation little can be done. It can and must do much to help negotiations. The Working President of the Hindu Mahasabha claims that its demand is very much like that of the Congress. Sheik Abdul Majid, too, protests that "the League resolution, shorn of its reservation, is substantially the same as the resolution of the Congress." It is good to note that important bodies are not only converging towards the Congress position but are proudly acknowledging the fact. The time is peculiarly fit for negotiations. They must be started forthwith. The war situation in India brooks no further delay.

Premier's Review

The main feature of Mr. Churchill's war review, which is, as usual, more or less frank, is, of course, his statement on Russia. Russian dissatisfaction with the efforts of Britain and America in so far as they have been intended to lift the weight off her have been well-known. It is this dissatisfaction, at least the psychological justification for which Mr. Churchill candidly recognises, that took the British Premier to Moscow. The military decisions taken at the conference are naturally secret. But Mr. Churchill claims that, as a result of personal contact with the "direct and even blunt" M. Stalin, he succeeded in establishing Russian confidence in the full loyalty of Britain and America "to a considerable extent." Mr. Churchill, however, himself went on to add that "deeds not words will prove that." Now, what are the deeds to be? They are, of course, a secret. But one thing seems to be disappointingly clear. For some long time yet there is to be little more in the west than an occasional Dieppe. Meanwhile the consolation that Mr. Churchill offers is the cryptic hint that "it is September 8" True, but if the Germans are left unengaged elsewhere they can manage a great deal of conquests and consolidation between September 8 and January 8.

As to the rest of his speech, Mr. Churchill's tone was confident though very deliberately and, quite wisely, cautious. Deeds and resulting events alone would prove how effectively the threat to Egypt the Eighth Army is going to remove—Mr. Churchill hinted, but very indirectly at the possibility of its removal finally and once and for all. But it cannot be doubted that Marshal Rommel was dealt a good blow in the last week, although the success has yet to be completed by destroying his bridgehead. And it is gratifying to learn that the present Eigth Army is now stronger and better equipped than ever before and that the Allied Air Force, on which so much depends, retains its mastery of the air. Even more welcome is Mr. Churchill's assurance that Malta has now received enough supplies to keep going for some months. But the best news is that since July there has been a steady improvement in "the struggle at sea" and that shipping losses have fallen below ship construction while simultaneously the rate of U-boat sinking has risen considerably. This is a vital gain in the war against the Axis. As to Mr. Churchill's reference to the air offensive from Britain, much is being done but a great deal more is urgently required.

Frankly Speaking

New Guinea Struggle

General MacArthur's communique issued on Wednesday suggests at least a slowing down of the deterioration in the Kokoda area. The Japanese having progressed to his main defence positions appear to have been held and, for the time, the position is what the communique describes as "static." With the air superiority that General MacArthur undoubtedly enjoys and is using against the enemy both in the battle area and in the rear, can it not be hoped that he will drive the Japanese from their present position? He has now the additional advantage of having practically completed mopping up operations at Milne Bay. That ought to relieve his aircraft based on Milne Bay to participate in operations further north. Indeed, Milne Bay can, and presumably will, be used as an important base for counter-offensive activities in New Guinea. Aerial attacks on Japanese warships which shelled Milne Bay under cover of bad weather are likely to keep these warships away now thus enabling General MacArthur further to strengthen and develop the region as a base of the Guadalcanar type.

Solomons Situation

In the other main south-west Pacific area, the Solomon Islands, Japanese attempts to weaken the American hold on the Guadalcanar-Tulagi region have again failed. Lately the Japanese have tried to land troops at a number of islands but have suffered heavy losses in men and barges. Not all of the landing parties have been wiped out, but those who got in are not adequate enough even to constitute effective reinforcements for isolated Japanese detachments who have been driven deep into the interior. But these Japanese groups will remain a serious nuisance if not a danger, until they are completely mopped up, which undoubtedly the American Marines will succeed in doing. Meanwhile, it is good to learn that Guadalcanar is being rapidly developed as a land and air base and, indeed, has already inflicted painful losses on the Japanese, particularly in the air. President Roosevelt was studiedly cautious in his recent fireside reference to the Solomons success. But if Admiral Nimitz and Admiral Ghormley push on with their preparations, as steadily as they are doing now, interesting operations, with the Solomons as their base, may be reasonably expected within a few weeks.

Anglo-Indians

The speech of Mr. Frank R. Anthony, the successor of the late Sir Henry Gidney as representative of the Anglo-Indian community in the Central Assembly, at the Jubbulpore Rotarians' meeting is of great interest as revealing the efforts of the community to adjust its attitude to the changing situation in the country. Most interesting are his views on the theory of racial superiority. Pointing out the harm done to his community by this theory he said: "According to leading anthropologists there is no such thing as pure community or pure race in world. Theories of racial purity and superiority were merely stock in trade of ranting demagogues and struggling imperialists. Every European races was a result of age-long intermingling of most divergent racial elements and India has seen even greater intermingling." Though race prejudice is still rampant among the British and even the Anglo-Indians, it is now generally acknowledged by scientists that no race as such is inherently superior or inferior, that environment, far more than heredity, determines the culture of an individual or a community, and that the effects of a fusion of races are also more determined by environment than by heredity. Most of the ills of the Anglo-Indian community are due to its isolating itself from the Indian environment and being isolated in its turn by the European community.

Be True To Motherland

As regards the political status of the community, Mr. Anthony said that, while loyalty towards Government was the community's instinctive attribute, they should not be blamed for it; it was part of their origin and their cultural environment, but it was in no way opposed to love for and loyalty to this, their motherland. Whatever may have been the position in the past, the motherland is now struggling to be completely free from the control of Britain. And the Anglo-Indian community must demonstrate its love for the motherland by participating in the national effort to free the country. It will be an unworthy attitude to transfer loyalty only when the victory is won by the country.

Why National Govt. Is Necessary

To The Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—"Among the many reasons for the immediate establishment of a National Government for India main emphasis has so far been laid upon the successful war effort which only a free India could mobilise to resist totalitarian aggression, but hardly any attention would appear to have been paid to the importance of a free India in respect of such post-war reconstruction as will follow the present war. We all know how, after the last war, though India was a signatory to the Treaty of Versailles and became an original member of the League of Nations, this country was reduced to the position of a mere on-looker and abetter of the activities of the British Government in Geneva. The voice of India was a mere echo of that of its British masters and the vote of India was invariably in the pocket of the British Government when matters of fundamental international importance were discussed and voted upon in the League of Nations. The so-called Indian Delegation to the annual sessions of the Assembly of the League used to consist of nominees of the Government of India who in their turn are subordinate to the British Government. In the circumstances there can be no prospect of the genuine voice of India being heard at Geneva. Lest a similar misfortune befall India again, it is imperative that the separate independent status of India, even as an autonomous member of the British Commonwealth of Nations, be immediately recognised both by Britain and the United Nations in order that the Indian Delegation, at the inevitable Conferences which will follow the war, should be in a position to voice, as representatives of the National Government of India, the real views of India in all such matters, both political and economic, as are bound to come up for solution in the period immediately after the war. In the circumstances it is clear that the suggestion to postpone the solution of the Indian problem until after the war cannot possibly be enunciated or entertained by those who honestly desire the true voice of India to be heard during the post-war reconstruction of the world.—Yours, etc.

Intense Fighting West Of Stalingrad

Nazis Succeed In Driving Wedge Across Russian Lines

MOSCOW, Sept. 9.

To-day's (Wednesday's) Soviet midday communique states:—"During the night of September 8 our troops fought the enemy West and South-West of Stalingrad, and in the areas of Novorossisk and Mozdok. No material changes took place on other sectors of the front".

During Tuesday night, intense fighting took place west of Stalingrad, where the Russians had announced a withdrawal during the day. The supplement to Soviet midday communique says: "West of Stalingrad intense fighting took place with enemy tanks and mechanised infantry. The Germans attacked Soviet positions and received heavy losses. Nine enemy tanks were destroyed. An enemy company was annihilated. South-west of Stalingrad, a fierce enemy attack was repulsed. In the area of Novorossisk stubborn fighting took place with the enemy who drove a wedge into the Soviet positions.

In the area of Mozdok fighting took place against an enemy group which had crossed the river. Five tanks were destroyed and a company of enemy infantry wiped out.

On the central front three inhabited localities were recaptured by Soviet troops. Four hundred Germans were killed".

"The defenders of Novorossisk are putting up stubborn resistance to fierce enemy attacks" said the Moscow radio early today (Wednesday). "By surprise counter-attacks, our units are wearing down enemy forces and inflicting heavy losses on them. For the third day now, fierce battles are continuing for a point which has already changed hands several times. At first the Germans, at the cost of enormous losses, had succeeded in taking it. Then early in the morning a unit of Black Sea Marines counter-attacked, drove the Germans out and annihilated a considerable number of officers and men. The Germans brought up reserves and again attacked. Fierce battles on this sector are continuing".

West of Stalingrad where the low-land terrain is extremely unfavourable for defence, the Germans have succeeded further in driving in a wedge across the Russian lines, says Reuters' special correspondent. The Soviet Command forcing the Germans to pay a heavy price has ordered the troops to withdraw nearer the city. The Germans attacked one flank in this position six times but were repelled. Every German attack was followed by a Russian counter-attack and 'vice versa'. Each engagement is won by the side which out-manoeuvres its adversary, says the "Red Star". For the last 72 hours Rzhev type of fighting has been going on within an unnamed populated point in the Novorossisk area. One half of the town is in Russian hands, and one half in the Germans. Another point has already changed hands several times and the latest despatches say that marines under cover of coastal and naval artillery have ousted the Germans.

A German airborne unit which captured an unnamed point on the south bank of the river in the Mozdok region was to-day exterminated by a Russian foursided counter-attack, but the Germans still retain a considerable foothold on the south bank. A large Red airforce is not only savagely attacking infiltrating enemy columns, but smoking out the Germans by firing woods. Facing violent Soviet attacks and unable to extend their foothold on the south bank the Germans have launched a movement eastward along the north bank. The Russians are steadily pushing the Germans back piecemeal on the south bank. The Soviet airforce is raiding pontoon crossings over which the Germans are hastily bringing reserves in an attempt to arrest the Russian counter-blows.—Reuter.

FOR PEACE TALKS

WHY LEAGUE CANNOT TAKE INITIATIVE

RAZA ALI FEARS CONGRESS MAY NOT BE PREPARED TO REVISE ITS BOMBAY RESOLUTION

MORADABAD, September 9.

Sir Raza Ali in a statement to the 'Associated Press' says:—

"I am sure that there is no Indian and hardly any Englishman who does not want the present political deadlock to be solved. How will this be brought about? Many non-Muslims friends consider that it is for the Muslim League and Mr. Jinnah to take the initiative. Some of them are positive that it is time for Mr. Jinnah to see Mahatma Gandhi and settle the preliminaries with him. The League's Working Committee has passed an important resolution which embodies its considered opinion. The League is prepared to negotiate with any party on terms stated in the resolution. As the League attaches as much importance to the acceptance of its basic Pakistan proposal as the Congress attaches to its demand of immediate independence, it is not reasonable to expect the League to compromise its position by opening negotiations with the Congress and leaving the latter free to press its demand regardless of Muslim feelings and sentiments. But apart from this, even more formidable difficulty supervenes.

IN A VICIOUS CIRCLE

Suppose Mr. Jinnah went to Poona to interview Mahatma Gandhi and was told, which is more than probable, that Mahatma Gandhi did not have it within his power to reconsider the resolution adopted by the All-India Congress Committee, such a step would make matters worse. In the absence of any indication from Congress quarters, it would be too much to expect that the Congress Committee would be prepared to make any modification in the Civil Disobedience resolution passed at Bombay. All this means that we are moving in a vicious circle.

Any just and fair-minded person cannot but condemn and deplore the excesses that have been committed during the last four weeks. Sir Jagadish Prasad in his statement has traced the development of the recent acts of violence to the absence of responsible Indian administrators in Provincial Governments. But why use this roundabout language? Why not call a spade a spade and confess that there has been no serious trouble in any Province where Mussalmans are in a majority. It is important to note that this does not exclude even the North-west Frontier Province where the Muslim population is 94 per cent and, inspite of the fact that less than three years ago it had a Congress Ministry. In my humble judgment, the best thing for the country to do is to wait till peace and calm are restored and matters brought back to normal conditions."—A. P.

Avoid Civil War At All Costs

Indore Ruler's Plea For Communal Goodwill In Face Of Danger To Country

BOMBAY, Sept. 9.

Pleading for communal goodwill and understanding, the Maharaja of Indore in a statement warns that if the different groups persist in their present attitude the result can only be civil war.

The Maharaja of Indore says:—"I have followed with keen interest the deliberations of the Muslim League and the Hindu Mahasabha, and the resolutions passed by their working committees from time to time. These have filled me with dismay and grave apprehension. If these groups persist in their attitude they are heading for a civil war. It is a patent fact that a civil war based on racial or religious grounds would be the greatest calamity for our country.

I cannot understand that men so highly placed as the Qaide-Azam, Mr. V. D. Savarkar and Dr. Shyam Prasad Mookerjee and others, would deliberately contemplate a course which can only plunge our country into an internecine feud, and divide it into separate and independent states, thereby breaking up the essential unity of our nation. This surely means that we have failed to grasp the lessons of history.

EXAMPLES FROM HISTORY.

There are examples that we would do well to consider, such as the revolution that has taken place in the U.S.S.R. in that great country problems such as these have been solved by granting racial and religious groups complete autonomy, but nowhere has this led to such autonomous groups claiming independence on grounds religious or racial as is now being claimed in this country. The countries of the U.S.S.R. and China had to face problems more or less analogous to those prevalent in this country of ours. They have faced them squarely, and the result has been unity instead of disunity. Both countries have large Muslim populations, but in those countries the Muslims instead of demanding separate states completely independent, have on the other hand sunk their differences, religious or racial, for the larger cause of a common unity. Even the United States of America has done and is going to do more on these lines between its large Negro and White populations. Are we to believe that we are deliberately going to ignore these examples and take a course of action which will be disastrous to India?

INDIAN STATES

I sincerely hope that the Indian States will not take sides in this mater, but will give a lead in communal questions to the rest of India in joint constructive action together, so as to avoid the disaster that we are heading for.

Has anyone thought of the fact that the great strength existing in the Indian States is based on the principle that to an Indian Prince, whether he be a Mohammedan or a Hindu, he is impervious to religious or communal differences? To him all his people whether they be Hindus, Mohammedans, Christians, Parsis, Buddhists, Sikhs or Jains, are all alike and no discrimination is entertained in his mind, on religious, racial or communal grounds towards them.

Has it ever struck anyone that the essential difference between British India and Princely India lies upon tolerance in the States, and the fact that in Indian States the rulers, whether Hindus or Mohammedans, share and take an active part in the festivities and life of all communities as if they were their very own; while in British India the Government does not do this, but rather keeps aloof? What a change it could make for the better, if the Government of India at the centre and the Governments in the British Indian Provinces looked upon communal and religious differences in the same light as the Princes do. This is the main reason why one seldom hears of communal clashes in Indian States, while in British India such clashes seem to be of frequent occurrence

FUTURE CONSTITUTION.

We are all striving to establish Democracy and a Federal Union for our country. Here again we seem to ignore the examples of Democracy and Federalism such as were evolved and were put into practice in the United States of America and British Commonwealth of Nations. Surely we should avoid the mistakes of other countries while at the same time taking the best from their systems of Government in order to evolve peacefully a Federation or Union based on unity rather than harping on disunity and communal differences. I would ask the Indian Princes to remember the French and Russian revolutions and ask our motherland to take a lesson from the American civil war. I do not claim that any country has produced a form of Government that is ideal, but some countries have attempted and put into practice something that has made them great individually. Given the goodwill and foresight of all those concerned, it can easily lead to a strong, free and united India. Is our nation going to show its bankruptcy in political thought by a lack of constructive foresight based on idealism that comes from an understanding of the true international mind, and of world brotherhood?

APPEAL TO LEADERS.

I believe that all sincere and patriotic Indians are capable of rising now to lead our country towards a glorious future irrespective of caste, colour or creed. Surely such an ideal will be looked upon by the various communities in India especially the Muslims and the Hindus, as something worthwhile and worth making sacrifices for, in order to achieve the larger independence and freedom which we so dearly cherish. Men like Mr. C. Rajagopalachari are shining examples of this. Sir Firoz Khan Noon has recently attempted a solution, while Sir Stafford Cripps' mission, though a failure, showed a sincere desire on behalf of His Majesty's Government to bring about an understanding amongst us. There is one truth that is inescapable, that we must live greatly or not live at all, and I am fully convinced that our nation is capable of doing this very thing, because living greatly is based essentially on truth and love for one's fellow beings.

I appeal, therefore, to all Indians, whether in Indian States or British India to urgently consider the suggestions I have made above, as the peace and security of this country and the world are at stake.—A. P.

BRITAIN'S SOARING WAR EXPENDITURE

40 P. C. Of Huge Total Of 12,000 Millions Met Out Of Taxation

LONDON, Sept. 9.

The Chancellor of Exchequer Mr. Kingsley Wood introducing a vote of credit for one thousand millions sterling in the Commons to-day said that this brought the total of such votes since the beginning of the war to 11,050 millions sterling.

During recent weeks, Britain's war expenditure averaged twelve and quarter millions sterling daily. In comparison with June, the figures show increase of half a million daily. The increase of expenditure over the last two years had been eloquent of the growing intensity of munitions to twelve millions.

The total budget expenditure had grown from 3,884 millions in 1940-1941 to the estimated figure of 5,286 millions for the current year. The three years of war have cost Britain 10,000 million sterling and including the cost of debt and our normal peacetime services, our total expenditure had been 12,100 millions. Forty per cent of this huge total was met out of taxation.

SAVINGS MOVEMENT

The savings movement had been a great success. Some 4.200 millions had been raised since the war began. During the first seven months of this year, the sale of National Savings Certificates and deposits in savings banks had increased by over ten per cent compared with the same period last year. There was urgent necessity for further reduction of personal expenditure for more saving.

He called attention to Britain's contribution to the common pool of the United Nations, especially the United States. He warned that "the domestic problems we have to face after victory will in the earlier post-war period be very like the problems we have to face to-day".—Reuter.

WITHOUT COMMENT

Congress detenus should not be released until the civil disobedience movement is called off, urges Mr. Jamnadas Mehta, Deputy Leader of the Nationalist Party in the Central Assembly, in an amendment which he has tabled to the amendment which his leader, Dr. P. Mr. Churchill's war review, described as cautious-cum-confident, set forth several concrete facts to prove how 'the tendencies of war have continued to move in our favour."

But he forgot to mention the most important. Against that serious omission we strongly and indignantly protest on behalf of the United Nations' cause itself.

We mean, of course, the arrival in England of India's "representatives" to the War Cabinet, the Jam Sahib of Nawanagar and Sir A. Ramaswamy Mudaliar.

This development is the greatest single event of the whole period from September, 1939. It is alone certain to turn the tide of the entire war on all fronts throughout the world, if not to bring complete and total victory before the year is out. And about this event Mr. Churchill didn't have even one word to say.

Ismail College

To the Editor of "The Chronicle".

Sir,—The report appearing in the issue of September 2, of your esteemed daily, regarding the protest of the Ismailites against the Bombay Government order to colleges and schools is totally unfounded. All the Muslim students of the college and a large majority of the Hindus kept quite aloof from the meeting which was convened and organised by persons who are playing a double role both in and outside the college.

The Ismailites who attend the college and purue their studies with commendable normalcy during these abnormal days have better and more constructive things to do than holding mere meetings and staging demonstrations.—Yours etc

FIRING IN BHAGALPUR JAIL

600 Prisoners' Attempt To Escape Frustrated

2 OFFICERS BURNT ALIVE

PATNA, September 9.

The Bhagalpur Central Jail prisoners made an attempt on September 4 to escape coupled with a violent attack on the jail staff, says a press note issued by the Bihar Government to-day. About 600, mostly life convicts and long-term prisoners, were concerned, and no political prisoners were involved. The convicts first tried to rush to the gate when the time came for the extra rural gang to go out to work. This attempt was beaten back but one warder was fatally injured.

Frustrated in this, the prisoners rushed to the factory where they brutally attacked the Deputy Superintendent and the Carding Master in their offices, burnt them alive and set fire to the factory. The jail staff was compelled to open fire in self-defence and to prevent the escape of the mutineers.

Shortly afterwards, the Note adds, the Additional District Magistrate arrived with armed police and British troops and assisted in restoring order. Three among the jail staff and 28 prisoners were killed and 87 injured. The Divisional Commissioner and the Inspector-General of Prisons visited the jail and had taken suitable action to ensure safety of the jail and arranged medical attendance on the wounded.

FIRING ON MOB

At Bangaon in the Muzaffarpur district, where the party of the Sub-Divisional Officer of Sitamarhi was waylaid and murdered on August 24, the Additional District Magistrate, and the D. I. G. of Police had to open fire on a mob on September 2. Three were killed and three injured.

A search of the house of a blacksmith in the Patna district led to the recovery of a large number of newly-made arrow heads. Several blacksmiths were arrested.

House searches were also conducted in the Shahabad district which resulted in the recovery of three pounds of powder in the possession of one person.

The public in a certain area in the Muzaffarpur district raised Rs. 500 for the dependants of the police officers who lost their lives at the hand of mobs in the recent disturbance.

In a village in the Monghyr district there was a free fight between the villagers and certain outsiders who subsequently had to withdraw.—United Press.

FLOOD HAVOC IN SIND

Several Railway Lines Breached And Villages Submerged

KARACHI, Sept. 9.

The flood situation at Dadu is reported to be critical. The railway line between Dadu and Larkana above Phulji station has been breached and trains are arriving upto Dadu only. Water is rushing to Dadu from the north-east of the railway station has been surrounded. The flood held in check by bund towards the west of the town is pressing from the south. A continuous rise in flood water near Dadu is expected for seven days at least. Work of making cuts in Larkana-Sehwao bund to divert the water in the Indus has started.

Many villages have been submerged. Refugees have settled down on the old bund and on banks of canals. The question of arrangements for refugees in Dadu Taluka is causing anxiety. Phulji railway station has been surrounded by water and is likely to be submerged. Rukan village is threatened and Government records and other property have been removed. Water against the Panchayat Bund in Mehar is rising daily.

The railway lines between Dadu and Kotri and between Khudabad and Sehwan may be cut off in a few days. The northern portion of Sehwan Taluka is in imminent danger. All water has met near Dadu and reached Manchhur Lake. —A. P.

"MOHAMED" ON SPIDER'S BACK

HYDERABAD, Sept. 7.

It seems incredible but nevertheless true that thousands of people at Raichur have seen and many more are rushing from the adjoining villages to see a spider having in clear gold Arabic letters "Mohamed" on its back surrounded by white stars. This strange spider was found in a house behind the Raichur Fort and is still there.—Orient Press.

London Stock Exchange Firm

LONDON, Sept. 9.

The Stock Exchange continued firm today, most sections moving higher. Home rails were especially prominent, advancing to new high levels since April 1940, on keen investment inquiry based on yield attractions, with Great Western a point higher at 47 1/2. Oils and industrials recorded grains with Anglo-Iranian and Molasses the main features. Kaffirs moved up on Cape inquiry and Brazil bonds again rose. Egyptian industrials also strengthened. Gilt-edged were generally maintained. Wall Street was steady.—Reuter.

NEW YORK COTTON MARKET DECLINES

Another Unexpectedly Higher Bureau Report

Bombay, Sept. 9.

Last month, the Government Bureau Report was a surprise when a crop of 13 million bales was estimated by the crop Reporting Board of the U. S. Agriculture Department.

The second estimate was issued yesterday at Washington which was unexpectedly higher by showing an increase of one million bales in the total production as a result of very favourable weather during the month with practically little damage by insects. The month of August is always a critical month for the American cotton crop and there are records of serious damage to the growing crop. But this year weather conditions were exceptionally favourable and the Bureau report reads as under:—

Crop 14,025,000 bales, Yield 289.3 lbs. Condition 79 per cent of normal. Acreage abandonment 3 per cent. Area left under harvest 23,273,000 acres. Ginnings 738,000 bales.

The figures issued last month were as under:—

Crop 13,085,000 bales. Yield per acre 266.7 lbs. Condition 79 per cent of normal. Ginnings 49,000 bales.

It will be noticed that the total production is now well over yearly consumption and will leave some cotton to increase the carryover. Thus the statistical outlook is not encouraging.

The demand for war and other civil requirements is expected to be fairly large. The U. S. administration is anxious to fix commodity prices and if it is done, there will be no speculative enterprise.

As a market factor the report failed to have any market effect. Prices fluctuated with a range of 24 points. At one time October was quoted 12 points above the previous close and after report October was 12 points lower. The New York cotton market finally closed at a net decline of 5 to 9 points. Spot cotton prices closed 12 points down at 19.46c. per lb.

The New Orleans cotton market was also quiet and closed at a decline of 6 to 8 points. Spot cotton prices closed 7 points lower at 18.58c. per lb.

RECLAMATION HOUSE COLLAPSE INQUIRY

Sensational Evidence

BOMBAY, Wednesday.

Mr. K. A. Noorani, Architect, said before the Backbay House Collapse Inquiry Committee to-day that the only complaints he had received about the house, were concerning sand, teakwood and steel. He had heard no complaints about the major defects disclosed during the inquiry.

Replying to Mr. N. K. Pettigara, witness admitted that the ultimate responsibility for the structure was his, from the foundation upto the completion, but at the same time he had to depend on others for supervision.

The cement-mixing was supervised by him and he had received no complaints about it.

Mr. Pettigara:—After seeing the remains of the columns and the debris do you still maintain that the concrete used was good?

Witness:—It is difficult to say anything about it by looking at the cement.

Questioned about the gaps between the piles and the pile caps, witness admitted that it was a grave defect which had occurred in a majority of cases. But he did not consider himself responsible.

With regard to the joggling of the bars, he had approved of them because Mr. Dargai and Mr. Murla had told him that the R. C. C. specialist Mr. Aga had approved.

Mr. Pettigara:— Would you approve of the joggling of the bars.

Witness:— I would approve of it.

Mr. Petigara:—You have enumerated a number of defects like piling, joggling, filling of slabs bad concrete, etc. Would you consider them as contributory causes?

Witness replied that defective piling and bad concrete could be two causes, but not joggling and with regard to the filling of slabs, he couldn't say anything.

As regards the material they were first-class, and the sand was the best available. He had given the contractor eleven certificates as he was satisfied.

The Half-Column "By Dim"

I have received a very interesting letter from a student of the Wadia College, who points out that every year so many hundreds, almost thousands of rupees, are being spent on fire-crackers at Divali. "This year the youngsters of India should try and save this country a loss" at a time when there are critical days at hand. The correspondent adds: "Last year we tried this experiment in a small town (Dahanu—District Thana) and we were 80 per cent "successful". He then goes on to ask: "Don't you think this scheme is good? In this case some points arise which have to be cleared up: (1) Fire-crackers come from China and we want to help her. (2) What substitute can we give to the children at Divali?"

My answer would be that it is very unlikely that any more crackers can come from China, because there is no means of transport. And there are so many other ways of entertaining children than just fire-crackers. Give your child a glass of milk, if you can't think of anything else. He needs it more.

* * *

Since I have often written destructively about Propaganda in India, I have felt it necessary also to make constructive suggestions. I have tried also to scout for talent wherever I have seen it and in some cases I have drawn the attention of the authorities. Well I have found one young Parsee, who has done a number of posters, book covers, etc. Yesterday he came into this office with a new idea. A simple poster which read: U and I stand for "U"nited "I"ndia.

Well, I think this is first class. What is more it is the type of clean propaganda, unlike the offensive stuff that comes out of the departments handling propaganda—stuff which newspapers refuse to accept. It does not say "Your wife is beautiful"; it does not misquote Nehru. It is a simple idea that must appeal to all Indians and help them to think in terms of a united defence.

I want to ask Government and the National War Front—will you buy this idea from this young man? His name is Jal B. Cowasji. In the meantime I may add that the slogan is his copyright.

In Secunderabad Sec. 144 has been extended for a further period of one month.—A. P.

NEW HOPE FOR FEVER VICTIMS

One of the serious results of fever is the weakness it leaves behind. Doctors tell us that this weakness is due to toxi-mea.

The fever sets up poisons in your blood. These poisons act on nerves and muscles, making them waste away. Within a few days your digestion is usually too weak to take solid food.

Doctors know that the effects are greatly minimised by plenty of nourishment Horlicks, is a concentrated food containing all the elements necessary for rebuilding a system weakened by fever. It renews vitality, shortens convalescence and restores your strength. It is so easy to digest that many doctors and hospitals are including Horlicks in their dietary treatment of fever cases.
